When your traveling to nanatucket

Advertisement: Now Jaco Warner sings about time

Yakko: Paul traveling from Nantucket to St.
You're at the airport and you're looking at the wall
Every city has a clock and every family has a different time.
From Asia through Peru to Malaysia

Yakko: Did you ever think it was 10 o'clock in Maine?
Is 3 o'clock the same time in Spain?
Breakfast in Rome, lunch in Ukraine.
We had lunch in Kathmandu

Yakko: If the Earth spins faster when the Sun passes through it
There is only one hour in the day
And school, when it starts, only lasts a minute
Before they all leave together
Review and Note: Good!

Yakko: If Earth were the closest planet to the Sun
The year will be very short and you will have a lot of fun
Because when you enter first grade you are already twenty-one years old.
You will live to be nine, three or four hundred years old

Yakko: Time is finite and dependent, it can be saved, it can be used.
Do what you love or learn to do it
Wako: You can't see it, you can't taste it...
Duration: But of course you can ruin it...
Jakko: That's what we're doing now!
Do you like it too?

Yakko: The international date line is an imaginary curve
Today on the right, tomorrow on the left
That is, if you crossed the border, did you arrive the day before departure?
That's how it works, it's crazy, you know?

Yako: If you were born in China and I was born in Carolina
Well, you're a day ahead of me, you see.

I think we were born in a second.
Why are you a day older than me?

Yakko: But this is not surprising, the difference lies in our birth
Since the Earth is spherical, the space around the Earth...
Warner Bros.: There are always different tours in Moscow
Earnings from London, Boston and the Financial Times…
Masako: It always is.

Yakko: Remember this when traveling from Nantucket to St. Paul
If you look at the clock on the wall, the airport
My friend, you must think about this song and remember...
Wako: This is very interesting...
Bindi: But when all hell breaks loose…
Warner Bros.: I bet we don't sing at all!
